To whom it may concern,

Gabriela Hennigan began working at the Autism Research Institute (ARI) on July 20, 2016, and her job title is “Executive Assistant.”

Gabriela has exceptional skills in gathering information on the Internet and then evaluating and classifying this information into relevant categories. This includes collecting information about social media posts, biomarkers, and law enforcement issues.

Gabriela has been loyal to ARI’s mission and is committed to making a difference within the organization and within the autism community.

Best regards,
